Who Should Attend

If your job involves anti-terrorism, bomb/explosives disposal, and/or explosives and post-blast investigations, you owe it to yourself and to your team to continue to expand both your knowledge and your skills. Hear about lessons learned as well as current trends. Meet the experts. Participate in the workshops. Come to learn, explore, and connect.

Why IABTI?

- Your job is more than render safe
- Explosives-related presentations like no other
- Largest expo of EOD tools and equipment
- Personal connections that can't be beat

IABTI In-Service Training is recognized by NBSCAB as meeting the training requirements of the National Guidelines for Bomb Technicians.

IABTI In-Service Training includes lecture-style presentations, case studies, and related workshops from some of the best explosives related subject matter experts. Attendance at this In-Service affords you access to those with expertise in the explosives and investigative communities. It also allows you to share your own challenges or successes with other specialists and colleagues and to truly build on those relationships.

IABTI Membership

Due to nature and content, all attendees must be members of IABTI. Non-members shall apply at www.iabti.org/join and must be approved before access will be allowed.

Your IABTI photo ID will be used as your on-site ID and is required. If you do not have an IABTI ID, please email your photo to IDCards@iabti.org.
